SBDC: Introduction to Public Speaking to internships

Rick Latour, owner of Gibson’s Lower, told students interested in the entrepreneurial program that a successful business needs hard work, perseverance and persistence, but to persevere, in addition to a full-time job, it might be helpful to have a part-time business to include in your resume. He also spends four nights a week making sure that his kids are doing their homework.

Helping People Achieve Business Success!

Serving the counties of Clinton, Essex, Franklin, Hamilton, Warren and Washington

SBDC offers classes for entrepreneurs

By DAN HEATH

S

lack the need to apply and businesses

Do not hallucinate.

RAW TEXT END